

THE PARTNER WORLD

How do I maintain my own integrity and still adapt to my partner?

Eventually, we may find a romantic partner. We play the boyfriend or girlfriend role. This world changes as we age, and we adjust and adapt to expectations. And we learn to relate to our partner's family.

Dr. Michael Obsatz

Storytelling in small groups or through personal reflection. One by one, each person shares their answer to the first prompt below. Then go to next question and so forth. A person can pass.

- 1. Share about how do you maintain your own integrity and still adapt to your partner?
- 2. Tell a story about a time you realized your world was changing and how did you adjust and adapt to those changes?
(new relationship, marriage, break-up/divorce, aging, illness, retirement, etc.)
- 3. Share an experience of being with your partner's parents or family.