

Don't educate your children to be rich. Educate them to be happy, so they know the value of things, not the price.

Victor Hugo ¹

Storytelling in a small group or personal reflection. One by one, each person shares their answer to the first prompt below. Then go to the next prompt and so forth. A person can pass.

- 1. Share how you were raised in your childhood to be “rich,” to be “happy,” or somewhere in between? As you have aged how has that changed, or not changed?
- 2. Who in your family and friends lives their life striving to be rich?
Who in your family and friends lives a happy life?
What have each of these people taught you?
- 3. What thoughts, feelings or memories arise when you read these words by Victor Hugo? “Don't educate your children to be rich. Educate them to be happy, so they know the value of things, not the price.”
